

THE CHINOOK ADVANCE

Vol. 22

Chinook, Alberta. Thursday, May 24th 1945

A team is a bunch of people all doing everything they can to help another guy score.

In competition we think, "How'm I doing?"
In cooperation we think, "What's to be done?"

It's no use to denounce world domination unless we're ready to renounce family domination back at home.

There was a day when erring people set up a golden calf and knelt to the false god Baal. Today they are more likely to buy a gold brick and fall for some demagogue's hull.

Big plans need plenty of little people to carry them out.

"men are qualified for civil liberty," said Edmond Burke, "in exact proportion to their disposition to put chains on their own appetites."

Mrs. W. Gingles and son Lloyd visited last week at the home of the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. MacDonald of Alsask, Sask.

Pte. G. Shippelt spent a week in Chinook visiting with his aunt, Mrs. Shippelt while on leave from Dundern, Sask.

Owing to the heavy rains of last week in the Chinook district, the farmers were not able to work on the land for three or four days.

Mrs. R. W. Mawdsley was a Hanna visitor on Wednesday.

Mrs. L. D. Burts and son Jackie are visiting for a few days with relatives in Hanna.

Open Letter

The Mayor and Councillors Of Chinook

Dear Mayor and Councillors: What has happened to our Village common? The village common on which used to graze the village cows; Milk is an essential — perhaps the most essential — on the diet of the village children — But where can the village cows graze now when there is no village common?

You say they invaded the cabbage — patches. Then why not issue a by-law to tether the unmannerly bossies! But we have so many children and how can they grow up strong and healthy without milk, and how can we get them milk without a cow, and how can we graze a cow without a Village common? — A Bewildered Parent—

A Church Service will be held in the United Church at 7:30 p. m.

All are invited to attend.

Opportunities for ALL

YOUR Liberal Government under Mackenzie King has taken practical steps to see that every Canadian after the war shall have a wide-open chance to make a real success of his life. It can be done by giving everybody the opportunity to get ahead faster and go further.

Isn't that what you want — a chance to make your own way IN your own way?

Here are definite, practical steps which the Liberal Government has taken (not just talked about, but taken) to make this Canada a better place to work in and bring up your children.

You will have to decide whether you want the men who devised these measures to carry them through, or whether you wish to entrust your own and your family's future to others.

Mr. Hon. W. L. MACKENZIE KING, Prime Minister

1 Reconstruction

Plans for jobs for 900,000 more workers than in 1939; and 60,000 more each year as the population grows. Every kind of enterprise will be encouraged. The Liberal Government has already set up the machinery: the Department of Reconstruction.

2 Foreign Trade

Liberal objective: Sixty percent increase in value over Canada's pre-war export trade. This means thousands of jobs, and is based on the number of jobs created by Canada's normal export trade.

3 Credit for Enterprise

The Liberal Government set up the Industrial Development Bank to provide money at low interest for long terms to help enterprising Canadians to develop new business. Another step towards creating full employment.

4 Exports Encouraged

War-torn countries will want to buy tremendous quantities of Canadian goods. To facilitate this, the Liberal Government has set up the Export Credit Insurance Act to do two things: (1) to insure Canadian exporters against loss, and (2) to make loans to foreign governments under contract to Canadian exporters.

5 Farm Improvement Loans

Your Liberal Government has made low interest loans available to farmers to finance their work and make improvements.

6 Guaranteed Markets

To provide farmers with a better wartime income, the Liberal Government made contracts for definite quantities of important products at agreed prices—namely bacon, eggs, cheese and beef. These contracts have worked out so well the Liberal Government extended many for longer periods.

7 Family Allowances

From July next, Family Allowances are to be paid monthly to assist parents in raising their children—$250,000,000 a year direct spending power in the hands of people who need it most.

8 New Homes for Canadians

The Liberal Government's new $400,000,000 National Housing Act enables hundreds of thousands of Canadians to own their own homes. In the first year after Germany's defeat, at least 50,000 dwellings will be built.

9 Returning Veterans

Gratuities, benefits and grants of $750,000,000 will enable men and women of the Armed Services to apply their energies in building the prosperous Canada for which your Liberal Government has been planning.

10 Floor Prices under Fish and Farm Products

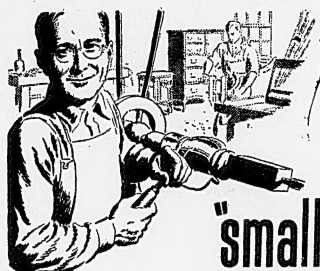

To protect farmers and fishermen and to maintain prices, the Liberal Government has provided floor prices under their products. Prosperous farmers and fishermen make a prosperous Canada.

11 Better Labour Conditions

In co-operation with organized Labour, the Liberal Government has confirmed collective bargaining, provided unemployment insurance, appointed labour representatives on government boards. (More than 600,000 workers, because of the Liberal Government's attitude towards Labour and the labour movement, now get annual vacations with pay.)

12 Reduction in Taxation

The Liberal Government will gradually reduce taxation when the European war is over to free spending power and to give Canadians every opportunity for prosperity, employment and freedom.

"small business" ISN'T SO SMALL!

Ordinarily one Canadian in every six gainfully employed, earns his livelihood in a "small business." It may be a farm, a store or a lumber-yard; an architect's office or a service station. Taken together, these individual enterprises provide a very substantial part of Canada's total jobs—must continue to do so after the war.

During the years ahead many people who dropped small business for war reasons will want to return to their accustomed or new ways of making a living. Thus old businesses will be revived. Many new ones will be started by returned men and people now in war industries. The commercial banks will do their part to afford assurance that no sound credit requirement need be left unserved in the field of small business.

As such businesses grow, they create additional job openings; that has been the pattern of Canadian enterprises. Most large companies began in a small way. And practically all could name some bank which played a part in their growth by providing the loans they needed to finance their day-to-day operations.

Your bank stands ready to serve businesses, small or large, well established or just starting out. Banks do not initiate such businesses—but they do furnish necessary working capital and many other forms of banking service.

No fewer than 94 out of every hundred establishments in the manufacturing, wholesale, retail and services fields are small, employing less than 15 people. Together they employ 37% of all the workers engaged in these classes of business. (From 1941 census)

What you have done in war—you can do in peace. You can do your part by supporting the Liberal Candidate in your constituency.

Winston Churchill

AS THE WAR IN EUROPE becomes a part of the past, certain personalities and events stand out clearly when we recall that long and desperate struggle. To the people of the Allied nations, and particularly to those of the British Empire, the figure of Winston Churchill will remain a symbol of the courage and determination which brought us to final victory. Long before it was generally realized that Nazi Germany was preparing to destroy the peace of the whole world, Mr. Churchill had foreseen what was to happen, and had warned the British people of this approaching danger. His warnings were not heeded at that time, but in May, 1940, when Germany had conquered almost all of Europe, and the invasion of Britain appeared imminent, he was called upon to lead the government.

People Inspired By His Oratory

When he took office, Mr. Churchill did not permit the serious situation caused by the fall of France and the evacuation of the British Army from Dunkirk, to alter his determination to continue the war against Germany. He declared that British policy would be "to wage war by sea, land and air with all our might and with all the strength that God can give us." This was the first of many stirring messages which inspired the people of the Empire and of all the freedom-loving nations, to have hope and faith that Germany would some day be defeated. Striking passages from his wartime speeches have been quoted so often that they might now be considered to be immortal, and there is no doubt, but that these speeches will live on in English history and literature.

Leadership In World Affairs

Mr. Churchill inspired the people of Britain and of the Empire with courage and hope during what may have been the darkest hour in our history. In international affairs, his leadership has been equally wise and courageous. When Russia was attacked, he undertook to establish closer and more friendly relations between that country and his own. He likewise did much to strengthen Anglo-American relations, which are so important both in war and in peace. By his personal friendship with the leaders of Russia and the United States he helped greatly to foster the complete unity of purpose which was necessary to bring the enemy to the point of unconditional surrender. Without doubt Mr. Churchill will be as well known to future generations as he is to us today, for his great and gallant leadership during one of the darkest periods of history.

Kept In Caves

Britain's Art Treasures Will Soon Be On Display Again

Britain has begun to "unearth" her art treasures from their secret wartime hiding places. Soon they will be displayed again in their splendour untouched — in their old homes throughout the country, says the London Daily Mail. Sir Kenneth Clark, Director of the National Gallery and Surveyor of the King's Pictures, has been to see them in caves in a Welsh mountain. In caverns as big as parish churches and 300 feet below ground, Rembrandt's "Jewish Rabbi," Velazquez's "Venus and Cupid" (the Rokeby Venus), Titian's "Bacchus and Ariadne," Tintoretto's "Origin of the Milky Way" have remained undisturbed for more than five years. So, too, have Turner's "Bridge of Sighs" and his famous water colors and example of all the modern foreign schools, including Van Gogh, Gauguin, and Matisse—with hundreds of other priceless works.

A GENEROUS GIFT

Sir James Dunn, president of the Algoma Steel Corporation, Sault Ste. Marie, has turned over the property known as Cedarhurst to be converted into a convalescent home for returned soldiers. Cedarhurst is a beautiful property on the brow of the hill overlooking the expanse of the St. Mary's river.

Price Control And Rationing Information

Q—Am I allowed to increase the rent on my house? I have spent quite an amount of money on it on improvements.

A—If expenditure for improvements amounts to not less than 10 per cent. of the assessed value of the accommodation, then a landlord is entitled to apply to the rentals appraiser to increase the rent. You are not permitted, however, to raise the rent without permission being first received from the Rentals Department of the Wartime Prices and Trade Board.

Q—Every time I buy meat I seem to pay a different price for exactly the same thing. Would you give me a list of ceiling prices for the various cuts?

A—Every butcher is forced to display price charts in a prominent place so that all meat prices can be checked by the customer before purchasing. If charts on meat prices are not displayed, the Wartime Prices and Trade Board should be notified.

Q—Will our graduating class be permitted to wear long gowns for the graduation exercises this June?

A—At the present time the long gowns displayed in stores are to be purchased only by brides or members of religious orders. If the Board permitted the manufacture of long dresses, it would involve not only the one-and-a-quarter yards added to each dress, but the extra yards for the slip as well. The textile situation is increasingly serious.

Q—Are visitors from the United States entitled to ration coupons?

A—Visitors from the U.S. who require temporary ration cards must obtain them on application to a local ration board, providing the visitors are going to remain in Canada five days or longer.

Q—Please send your questions or your request for the pamphlet "Consumers News" or the Blue Book in which you keep track of your ceiling prices, mentioning the name of this paper to the nearest Wartime Prices and Trade Board office in your province.

Home Decoration

Color Is An Important Item In Interior Work

Color is one of the most important phases of home decoration, and paint supplies the cheapest and best means of bringing color to a home. It was stressed by speakers at a series of McGill University lectures on "Building and Equipping a Home."

Color can be used to make a room look wider or narrower, higher or lower, small or more spacious at the desire of the occupier, said Edythe Shuter, well-known Montreal interior decorator. Nevertheless, she stressed that hard and fast rules regarding color and color combinations can't be laid down, since colors that cheer one person might have special associations that depress others.

"Confidence in color comes with knowing just what it will do and how to make it do it," said Miss Shuter. "You will never have to shy away from a strong color, or a clear intense shade, if you know exactly how much of it to use, what to use it with, and what effect it will have on its surroundings."

GEMS OF THOUGHT

THE GOSPEL

Jesus went about all Galilee, teaching in their synagogues, and preaching the gospel of the kingdom, and healing all manner of sickness and all manner of disease among the people.—Matthew 4:23.

So comprehensive are the doctrines of the gospel, that they involve all moral truth known by man; so extensive are the precepts, that they require every virtue, and forbid every sin.—Warren.

The shifting systems of false religion are continually changing their places; but the gospel of Christ is the same forever.—Cuyler.

My heart has always assured and reassured me that the gospel of Christ must be a divine reality.—Daniel Webster.

The divinity of St. John's Gospel brings to view overwhelming tides of revelation, and its spirit is baptismal; he chronicles this teaching.—A new commandment I give unto you. That ye love one another.—Mary Baker, Eddy.

There is not a book on earth so favorable to all the kind and to all the sublime affections, or so unfriendly to hatred, persecution, tyranny, injustice, and every sort of malevolence as the gospel.—Beattie.

Canada's Forest Wealth

Includes Principal Resources Of Softwoods Within The British Empire
Canada's forests cover an area of 1,220,400 square miles, or more than one-third of the total land area of the country. The accessible productive portion of the forests covers 430,000 square miles, and it is from this area that the whole output of sawlogs, pulpwood, fuelwood, and other primary products is obtained. About 340,000 square miles of forests, classed as productive but not at present accessible, form a reserve for the future when transportation systems may be more highly developed. By far the larger part of the world demand for wood is for softwood, or coniferous, species. Canada possesses the principal reserves of softwoods within the British Empire, and the supplies of the most desirable varieties—spruces, Douglas fir, western hemlock, western red cedar, and white, red and other pines. In addition, the eastern provinces furnish hardwoods, such as birches, maples and elms, which are particularly useful for special purposes.—St. Thomas Times-Journal.

MEET A CWAC—

"The Littlest CWAC" is probably the title most applicable to diminutive, four foot eight and one half inch Pte. Gladys Ford of North Battleford, Sask. Four foot eight and one half inches of CWAC, according to military data that is, but the little lady in question lays claim to four foot nine inches—"with my shoes on," she confesses. For the first few months after joining the army in June, 1943, she was the quarter-master stores greatest headache. Finally, however, they got a uniform small enough for her and now she pritts trips about in her smartly fitted outfit and neat little pair of "Spartans." Her shoes and the care of her feet are especially important to Pte. Ford since dancing is her career. Her specialty is an acrobatic ballet, the routine entirely of her own creation. Besides being a dancer, she is qualified as a psychiatrist, stenographer and it was this special qualification that led to her enlistment in the C.W.A.C. Born in Boston at an early age. Her only brother is in the navy.

SMITH SISTERS SING—

Fifteen officers, in the rank of captain or major, started the first course at Ste. Anne de Bellevue. Designed as a refresher course for serving regimental officers, it consists of three weeks' instruction in administration, woman management, organization of the C.W.A.C., fundamental training and drill. Included among the officers from Western Canada taking the course are, Major Irene O'Shea, Vancouver; Major Helen Rankin, Moose Jaw; Major Mary McIlvina, Lethbridge; Major Jean Fallows, Lloydminster; Captain Maude Cawsey, Moose Jaw and Captain Ethel English, Calgary.

Marie—That's just the trouble. You may lose your job at any time.

Husband—What extravagance! You have two hats to match that one dress.

Wife—Oh, no, I haven't. I've only one dress to match the two hats.

"You told that man it was five minutes' walk to the station, and it's a good twenty minutes."

"Yes, but he was nice and polite and he seemed so tired."

He (nervously)—Elizabeth, darling, there is something that has been troubling on my lips for months and months.

She—Yes, so I see; why don't you shave it off?

Missionary—And do you know nothing whatever about religion? Canada—Well, we got a taste of it when the last missionary was here.

"Jim recommended that new restaurant to me if I wanted some good roast beef."

"How was it?"

"It was a bum steer."

Daughter—Only Myrtle, Dad.

An Evil Philosophy

The Lust For Military Power In Germany Must Be Eradicated

The Hitlerite foe has been defeated on the field of battle. But Hitlerism as an evil philosophy still remains to be exterminated. The war will have been in vain if Hitlerism survives Hitler.

It will be a long and difficult task. After the last war, the people of the Allied world thought they had conquered what was then known as Prussian militarism when the German armies capitulated. "Prussian militarism" was a phrase which really denoted the German lust for power. It was not conquered.

Almost before the ink on the Treaty of Versailles was dry, the Germans were thinking of the next war for power. The Junkers, the intellectuals, the riff-raff and the discontented began to lay plans. Then Hitler came on the scene and in ten years had risen from an obscure malcontent to be the chancellor of Germany.

As soon as his real character was revealed, which was immediately after he came to power, he became the focal centre of the apprehensions of free mankind. He began to suppress, then he began to attack. He raved and ranted over the radio until his voice became the symbol of violence and fear. He is gone now, but the real enemy was not this misfit, this essentially cheap rouser, but the ideas he represented.

Hitler called himself Fuehrer. But he was in fact the servant of the forces of evil in Germany which hoped to gain from what he offered. He talked of Aryanism, of blood and soil, of race purity, Lebensraum and similar nonsensical conceptions. But his single aim was power, and his single goal the elevation of the German people to the role of "master race".

It is this evil creed that has to be eliminated. There must be a purge of Germany. Far more drastic treatment of that nation which three times in a century has attempted world conquest is demanded than any yet receiving official approval. The blood and rubble that is now Germany must be cleansed for the last time.—Ottawa Citizen.

End Was Appropriate

History Has Been Written In Disintegration Of Germany

This is as inglorious an end as history could write—but an appropriate end for a Government that was born in a beer hall, whose bible was written in a prison cell by a man found guilty of treason, a Government which operated without ideals and had as its fundamental purpose loot and murder. This disintegration we have witnessed cannot be distorted by another Goebbels. History has been written, the time too plainly to be changed. Let the beginning of Nazism stand forever as a warning. Let its obscene end be remembered as a lesson.—New York Times.

ON BOTH SIDES

H. R. Knickerbocker, war correspondent, says that last time he was in Italy he dined with a group which included an Italian nobleman of some minor distinction. Eventually the conversation turned towards the course of the conflict. "But my dear fellow," said the Italian, who affected a British manner and accent, "you cannot possibly know as much about the war as I do. You see, we have been on both sides!"—Wall Street Journal.

Planning To Build Largest One Ever Produced In Britain

Blackburn Aircraft Company has plans for the largest flying-boat ever built in Britain. The six-engined aircraft would weigh 138 tons—more than six times as much as the R.A.F.'s Sunderland—and have a wing span of 202 feet. It would carry up to 160 passengers or 90,000 pounds of freight.

Top speed would be more than 300 miles an hour and normal cruising speed 269 miles at 15,000 feet. A pressurized cabin would be provided for passenger comfort.

Doorn Castle

Reporter Pays Visit To The Place Where The Kaiser Lived In Exile (By Maurice Desjardins)

Doorn, Holland, is a little city of 5,000 and is one of the best known in the world, for here stands the stately "Huis Doorn" where the late Kaiser chopped and sawed wood in a slate-roofed shed until he died here June 4, 1941.

Janitor Armand Labouchere, a Dutchman of French Huguenot descent, showed me through the palace grounds.

First we visited the famous woodshed, then the guest house, where two priceless Watteaus still hang in the crown prince's room. Across a moat on the right side of the castle squats a square mausoleum where the emperor's body lies in a red velvet coffin.

I was the first Allied war correspondent to visit the palace and probably the first newspaperman of all time, for Doorn was a tourist place, but a haven of privacy.

The castle was not lived in since the Kaiser's death, but every one of scores of expensive clocks there still keep exact time.

Labouchere, a retired Dutch policeman, ushered me into the reception hall where the furniture and Gobelin tapestries are relics of the time of Frederick the Great.

The Nazis left Doorn alone during their occupation of the Netherlands. Only a few officers visited here for the majority were afraid they'd be accused of making a pilgrimage to the Hohenzollern shrine.

There are bigger-than-life-size pictures of the Kaiser hanging in every room in the palace.

In the rooms are objects worth millions of dollars—rosewood bookshelves, a gem-studded suit of armor, marble chairs, Sevres vases and exquisite miniatures.

I also saw the emperor's den and the saddle he used to sit on while writing letters.

There is truly regal luxury in every apartment which leaves one gasping. Half a dozen gold Mercedes-Benz limousines are standing in the garage in running order, to be used by no one knows who. Labouchere says even the Dutch government—which appointed him to the janitor post—has not decided who will be the next tenant of the "Huis Doorn."

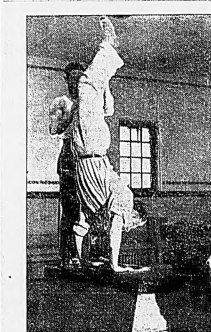

Has Big Job

What Electricity Is Expected To Do On Big Bombers

Electricity aboard a big bomber is called upon to perform the following tasks: Start the engines, change the propeller pitch, raise and lower the landing gear, open and close the bomb bay doors, manipulate the flaps and brakes, run the bombights, release the bombs, turn the gun turrets, compute the gunners' sights, fire the guns, detect and identify ground units by radar waves, and provide light and heat for the crew.

FOREST FIRE LOSS

The greatest loss occurring in forest fires is not the destruction of mature trees, but the ruination of young growth, and charring of the forest floor, since much of the older timber still can be utilized.

Jail authorities have noted improved health and also improved discipline. The health-education program is being extended to other provincial jails as rapidly as arrangements can be made for instructors and equipment.

against his leg and the dogs showed an inclination to kiss his face. "What kind of guard duty is this?" he demanded gruffly, scratching behind their ears.

Not until he reached the door did the dogs set up a furor while the cat climbed the screen and clung there. A small woman, wearing a blue and white apron, came out on the porch. "I do not want any thing," she said, her black eyebrows drawn together in a fierce scowl. "Be on your way before I give you a round for trespassing."

"I'm not selling anything. I simply want to talk to you."

"What kind of uniform you wearing? You another one of these army pests?"

He inhaled deeply of the aroma coming from the kitchen. "Fresh bread! It's been years since I had a bite of new-baked bread."

"If you think you can get around me by sweet-talking, you've got another little act coming. Step lively—don't let all the flies in," she ordered. She poured milk into a tall tumbler and handed it to the general, then she placed a pat of butter on a blue plate, added hot rolls and an apple made grape jelly. "There," she said, bringing her lips tightly together, "that's better than you'll get in any officers' mess."

Between bites the general said, "I suppose you know I've come about using your grove during manoeuvres?"

"I gave my answer to that young fellow—the one with the mustache. I said No."

"Why?"

"Because I don't believe in war."

"That's a fine crop of potatoes you have in your garden," the general observed, munching with relish. "Did the plants come up just of their own accord?"

"I hope you know more about tactics than you do about vegetables," the woman snorted. "I planted them."

"So you have to plant them every season—they just don't grow of themselves from year to year. Have any trouble with bugs?"

"Ever see a potato beetle without its bugs? Sure I have to fight bugs. Sometimes I have web worms to contend with, too."

"Well, there it is," the general said calmly. "Liberty and the theory of individual dignity aren't hardly perennials. They have to be cultivated each new generation. About every twenty-five years the crop is threatened by a scourge of insects that just don't stamp out. I want to bring a couple of divisions of men in here to practice the stamping out process."

The little woman poured another glass of milk for the general. "You're a smart talker, she said, but her voice hurried. "If I say Yes, can I ride along in one of those armored cars I saw in the movies?"

"It's against the regulations, of course. Still, in gratitude for the use of your land, I might arrange for you to take a ride Sunday before manoeuvres start." He arose and shook hands. "Sunday, then, at ten."

The little woman watched the general's car kick up a cloud of dust on the road before she walked briskly back into her parlor. On the mantel were three pictures of men in uniform.

"You," she said to the eldest, "went off to the Philippines and left me with three children to bring up. And you, son, ran away and joined up to get to France. And you third-generation fire-eater, wouldn't let me rest until I let you go to Pensacola. For men there's excitement and change and novelty in this Army business. For women there's only waiting and loneliness and heart-hunger. But here's one woman to beat the game. I'm going to get some excitement out of this fracas by riding in one of those Army bugs if it's the last thing I ever do."

"Hm. I sure had to hold out a long time before I got together with the man who could fix it up. I certainly did."

Paid Plenty For Some Distilled Water Used For Car Batteries

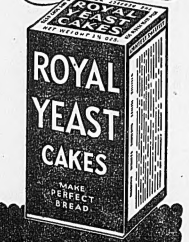

A woman car-owner, allowed a small ration of petrol for work of national importance, bought some distilled water for topping up her batteries. The water was contained in two gin bottles, bearing the label of a well-known proprietary brand, and these she left lying on the back seat of her car while she went into another shop to make some purchases.

When she came out the bottles were gone, and in their place was a slip of paper bearing this inscription, hastily scrawled in pencil: "Sorry but we really do need it." Pinned to the slip of paper was a £1 treasury note.—Leeds Yorkshire Post.

For Women There's Waiting

The report was brought in to the general, who, more diplomat than martinet, liked to handle such things personally. In effect, the field workers claimed that the area over which manoeuvres for his corps were to be held had been provided by eager farmers. Much of the land was not under cultivation; it possessed the desired hillocks, no weeds, rocky terrain; it was inaccessible to the curious. "There's just this one hitch—right?" he said to his aide.

"Yes, sir. It seems this farm wife—in the middle of the area—absolutely refuses to let us use this wooded section." He indicated a district on the contour map. "She's a mile of a woman. No bigger than this—"flattening his palm some four feet ten inches above the floor—"and she has the prettiest head of snow-white hair I've ever seen. Also, she has a Springfield with which she can smash a bottle sitting on a fence post as far as from here to the next building."

The general measured the distance with his eyes. His eyebrows went up, and his lower lip pouted—a habit he had. "Maybe we should draft her," he said. Then, "I'll fly down and have a talk with her. Find out what her objections are, exactly. Did you notice whether she seemed to be much of a cook?"

The aide looked puzzled. "No, sir. I didn't notice."

"If you can get a woman to making doughnuts or cookies for a bunch of hungry boys—you've made an army convert," the general observed, chuckling.

There was a car waiting for him at the airport; it took him over an hour to reach the farm, which consisted of rolling hills where a herd of whitefaces were grazing, a thriving vegetable garden, a big red barn, and a trig white house with a screened porch on three sides.

A cat and two dogs came to meet the general. The cat arched herself

What John Bracken Stands For;

FREEDOM, SECURITY OPPORTUNITY AND A UNITED CANADA

FREEDOM—Our boys have fought for world freedom. They must not face internal strife when they come back home.

SECURITY—The uncertainty of the future can be eliminated only by a sound and fair policy and a conscientious government

OPPORTUNITY—Will be assured the people of Canada, especially the youth by not depriving them of the incentive of individual enterprise by creating and encouraging new developments.

A UNITED CANADA—Can only be obtained by a straight forward, sound, fair policy to, one and all with no political favors and no discrimination.

WHAT THE BRACKEN GOVERNMENT WOULD MEAN TO ACADIA—Acadia is entirely dependent on agriculture. Their policy is that agriculture must have its fair share of the national income, which it never had. Even present prices are about 20 percent lower than they should be.

John Bracken knows the West and the Candidates Know Their Constituencies. Farmers Represent All Rural Ridings.

JACK WILLIAMS—has lived on the same farm in ACADIA for 36 years. He knows farming conditions.

There are critical times ahead and every one should use sound, sane judgement in casting their ballot.

—VOICE FOR SOMETHING YOU CAN GET—

When you mark your ballot X for WILLIAMS you are voting for sound, sincere government. A government that believes in:

PEOPLE BEFORE THINGS

A FAIR DAY'S PAY FOR A FAIR DAY'S WORK
EQUAL PAY FOR EQUAL WORK

WOMEN—you have over 50 per cent of the voting power, so use your franchise. After what the boys have fought and died for it is every one's duty to take an active part in the government of their country. SO LET US GET DOWN AND VOTE.

Liberal Working Plan for Full Post-War Employment...

For Veterans—$750,000,000 to get them started in good paying jobs in industry, on the land or in business for themselves as each of them chooses.

Housing—$400,000,000 to finance the biggest building scheme this country has ever known.

Family Allowances—$250,000,000 a year to lessen the burdens of parenthood and to equalize the opportunities of young Canadians for success and happiness.

Export Credits—We've got to have exports if we're going to have jobs. Your Liberal Government has arranged to finance war-wrecked countries who will be good customers later.

Industrial Development Bank—Your Liberal Government has set up machinery to help enterprising Canadians develop new business.

Farm Loans—One man in every three in Canada works on the farm. To help them get better equipment, your Liberal Government has arranged that they can borrow the money they need for better working and living conditions.

Floor Prices—The Liberal Government's policy is that when farmers and fishermen prosper, so do other Canadians. It has therefore taken action to put a floor under the prices of farm and fishery products.

Reduction of Taxes—Your Liberal Government believes in jobs first. To this end, taxes will come down to free spending power.

These are just some of many steps in the Liberal Government's Working Plan to ensure full employment after the war. In addition it has stimulated tremendous private savings in Victory Bonds and War Savings Certificates; put through Unemployment Insurance, set up a special Department of Reconstruction staffed by experts. In fact all its policies are directed to the same end—a "high and stable level of employment and income."

JOBS!

Jobs with bright futures for the young men and women coming out of the Armed Services with the best part of their lives before them! Jobs for all! Jobs with big prospects and good, reliable money that will keep its buying power! After all the hard work, sacrifice and self-discipline which has brought us through the war, the people of this country have earned a brighter future in a better, juster, grander Canada than we have ever known!

LOOK how much Canadians have accomplished, here on the home front, even without the energy and initiative of all the vigorous young people now in uniform, and their zest for daring! What is there Canada can't do with them back on the home team? Why, with their help, we Canadians are headed full speed for the greatest period in our history!

THE all-important question today is the civilian staff-work and leadership which we call "government." The Liberals have a working plan. It's big and bold! Parts of it are outlined for your judgment in the left-hand column. It has been designed with the aid of the keenest minds in every phase of industry, agriculture, labour and learning. The plan will work. In fact it is already bringing results. It will continue to do so! The Liberals can tell you this with confidence because they have had successful experience in operating nationwide plans.

VOTE for your Liberal candidate. Make sure the team which made this plan for full employment shall see it through—and win the peace!
